A GUIDE TO RALEIGH

See our city out in the open

Raleigh is pretty easy to navigate. It's one of the few cities in the U.S. designed on the grid system, and its location was established because of its proximity to Sir Isaac's Tavern—a favorite watering hole of our state legislators. We hope you enjoy our tidy blocks, yummy restaurants, and plentiful bars. Look for the AIGA branded open signs for retreat-friendly businesses.

Downtown is divided into 5 districts: Warehouse, Glenwood South, Capitol, Moore Square, and Fayetteville Street. Walk the grounds of our Capitol Building (at the end of Fayetteville St.) to get a dose of history and Greek revival architecture, or eat at chef Ashley Christensen's 6 downtown restaurants and see how design + food = the Raleigh gastronomic scene. We are an open data city, so visit data.raleighnc.gov to see our open data portal.

We are a city of opportunity. We're known for our beautiful oak trees, our friendly personalities, tech and startup focus, unstuffy way of doing business, and our proximity to the ocean and the mountains. We can't wait to see what you'll make happen here during your stay. From everyone in our city, welcome to Raleigh!

THANK YOU!

AIGA for your leadership and guidance!

Mon–Thu 8am–7pm / Fri–Sat 8am–9pm

Sun 9am–5pm

lucettegrace.com

A contemporary patisserie in the heart of downtown, specializing in sweet and savory breakfast pastries, desserts, and light lunch.

Boulted Bread 22

Warehouse District

614 W South St., Raleigh, NC 27603

Wed–Fri 7am–6pm / Sat 8am–5pm

boultedbread.com

A bakery, with fresh breads and breakfast pastries and a stone mill. Boulted Bread built their very own mill so they could use grain that offers a wider flavor spectrum, are more nutritionally complete, and are as fresh as possible.

DESIGNER BONUS...

Boulted Bread created an outside garden area for sitting that showcases their mural—a colorful design represents a quilt square as a nod to North Carolina culture.

Big Ed's City Market Restaurant 12

Moore Sq District

220 Wolfe St., Raleigh, NC 27601

Wed–Fri 7am–2pm / Sat 7am–12pm / Sun 8am–1pm

bigedscitymarket.com

Big Ed's was founded in 1958 by Big Ed Watkins, a native of Wake County. His family's farm produced tobacco and other crops. It is there that Big Ed developed the recipes used in his restaurants by helping his mother in the kitchen preparing meals for the farm workers. Big Ed's opened in 1989 in the Downtown City Market in conjunction with the city of Raleigh's revitalization project.

Pit-smoked free-range pork, Texas-style brisket, and other BBQ staples including tofu and turkey options, in a smart-casual setting.

Fox Liquor Bar 28

Moore Sq District

237 S Wilmington St., Raleigh, NC 27601

ac-restaurants.com/fox

Here to do some boozy good—Fox's is a taproom serving cocktails in a sophisticated, upscale environment.

Raleigh Times Bar 33

Fayetteville St District

14 E Hargett St., Raleigh, NC 27601

raleightimesbar.com

A timeless watering hole serving belgian beers, microbrews, and American pub grub. Since restoring the original building in 2006, The Raleigh Times has expanded twice to include second floor seating and a rooftop patio with the best views in downtown Raleigh. Featuring hand crafted, creative takes on classic bar fare favorites.

DESIGNER BONUS:

Raleigh's past, present and future are all on display at this 100 year old building that has been beautifully restored. Old press clippings and images from their namesake newspaper adorn the walls and capture the rich cultural and political history that is unique to the Capital City.

Historic City Market ★

Moore Sq. District

215 Wolfe St., Raleigh, NC

The day was October 1, 1914. Headlines in the Raleigh News and Observer told of the price of cotton being 10 cents a pound and the build-up of troops in Europe readying themselves for the "great conflict." But the headlines that captivated most Raleigh citizens on this day read "New Market Is Now Open – Thousands Throng The Building While Ceremonies Are In Progress."
